WORKING PAPER SUBMITTED
BY THE UNITED KINGDOM DELEGATION

The following paragraphs, drafted in a form suitable for insertion in the Convention, illustrate some of the ideas advanced at this Meeting about striking a balance between an expression of the economic interests of claimant states and assurances of restraint on their part.

A. Suggested paragraph for addition to Article IX

"1. ...

2.

3. When the amount of any species being harvested in a region or sub-region within the Antarctic Treaty Area approaches a point which is close to the quantity for that region or sub-region established pursuant to Article VIII (2) (c) above, that quantity shall be allocated by the Commission annually amongst:

- Contracting Parties which have engaged in fishing that species in that region or subregion, and
- Contracting Parties referred to in Article IV (1) (a) of the Antarctic Treaty whose previously asserted rights of or claims to territorial sovereignty in the Antarctic Treaty Area include coasts facing that region or subregion".

B. Declaration (to be attached to the Convention)

"The Contracting Parties referred to in Article IV (1) (a) of the Antarctic Treaty declare with regard to the matters dealt with in this Convention that they will not seek to apply national measures in the Antarctic Treaty Area as against any other contracting party whilst the measures provided for in this Convention are being implemented."
